

Department of Biblical Studies

The Department of Biblical Studies exists to train servant-leaders for vocational Christian ministry. The Bachelor of Arts degree in Biblical Studies prepares the student to think critically, to articulate effectively in written and oral form, to handle the Word of God properly, and to engage in sound theological study. The student will survey the entire English Bible, obtain a working knowledge of the Greek language, be exposed to the 10 major sections of systematic theology, receive instruction in exegesis, and acquire a basic understanding of the contemporary theological scene. Each student will be challenged to walk with God and to develop excellence in academics as a means to a lifetime of loving and serving God.

The Bachelor of Arts degree in Biblical Studies provides effective training for ministry in one of the following vocations: pastor, youth pastor, church planter, counselor, or evangelist. The program also provides sound preparation for graduate school or seminary. Each student will be guided and mentored by dedicated faculty members who have proven themselves in their respective fields of study.

Bachelor of Arts in Biblical Studies

Bible Exposition Emphasis

The purpose of the Bible exposition emphasis is to develop in each student the ability to accurately understand and apply the Word of God. In addition to 14 credits of Bible survey courses covering every book of the Bible, the student will choose 12 credits of Bible electives. Comprehensive study of the English Bible in addition to sound training in Greek, church history, homiletics, theology, and apologetics will prepare the student for effective local-church ministry or graduate work in seminary.

Church Planting Emphasis

Northland is known for cultivating a pioneering spirit in its students. A passion for areas unreached with the gospel permeates the campus. The church planting emphasis prepares the student to start churches in urban or rural areas of the United States where few or no churches are passionate for God and for truth. In addition to receiving instruction in English Bible, theology, homiletics, and Greek, the student will study under experienced church planters who will mentor him in the theological and practical aspects of starting and nurturing the growth of a new church.

Pastoral Studies Emphasis

In a world of ever-increasing complexity, it is vital that the pastor remain dedicated to God and His Word. The pastoral studies emphasis is designed to prepare a man for a lifetime of pastoral ministry. In addition to numerous courses in practical training for the pastorate, the student will receive instruction in Bible, theology, homiletics, Greek, and biblical counseling. The student's education will culminate in a pastoral internship under the supervision of experienced pastors who are burdened to mentor young men called into the ministry.

Theology Emphasis

The theology emphasis is designed for the future pastor or teacher. It emphasizes five essential disciplines for the theologian: thorough knowledge of the English Bible, systematic theology and biblical languages, as well as a working knowledge of church history and philosophy. Courses in homiletics and apologetics will prepare the student to articulate a sound defense of the faith.

Youth Ministries Emphasis

Preparing the next generation of servant-leaders is our passion at Northland. The youth ministries emphasis will prepare future youth pastors to disciple young people within the context of the local church. Experienced youth pastors will mentor each student and provide practical training in all aspects of youth ministry. Along with courses in youth work and local church ministry, courses in Bible, theology, homiletics, Greek, and biblical counseling will provide well-rounded ministry preparation.

Associate of Arts in Biblical Studies

The Associate of Arts in Biblical Studies prepares the student to effectively minister as a layman in his local church. It is especially suited for the individual who is unable to pursue a four-year degree or who is looking for foundational Bible training in addition to a bachelor's degree in another field.
