

Department of Church Ministries

Church ministry is a multifaceted endeavor. To be adequately prepared to serve within the church, one must be trained in evangelism, discipleship, and worship. In addition, one must be able to serve men and women of every age, equipping them to do the work of the ministry. Therefore, the church ministries program at Northland aims to prepare active laymen, camp directors, church and Christian school secretaries, and coaches for the vital work of the church.

This program includes thorough biblical and theological training as well as the development of skills in communication, children's ministry, youth work, adult discipleship, missions, and counseling. Students may choose an emphasis that is in keeping with their ministry focus.
